

A Talk-Along Story

COUNT THE POSSUMS

By Dick Punnett
Illustrated by Tom Dunnington

Children participate by guessing rhyming answers

Talk-Along - COUNT
THE POSSUMS

Dick Punnett

by Dick Punnett
Illustrated by Tom Dunnington

*To my wife YVONNE
the best "talk-along" partner a man ever had!*

© 2005 by Richard Douglas Punnett
2018 Revised. All rights reserved.

Library of Congress Cataloging in Publication Data

Punnett, Richard Douglas.
Talk-along - count the possums.

(A Talk-along book)

Summary: By supplying the missing word that rhymes with the preceding line, the reader helps Mama Possum count her babies as she finds them in the aftermath of a hurricane.

[1. Opossums - Fiction. 2. Counting.
3. Stories in rhyme.] I. Dunnington, Tom, ill.
II. Title. III. Title: Count the possums.
IV. Series.

PZ8.3.P97Co [E] 81-21773
ISBN 0-9657211-4-0 AACR2

*I want you to know before we start,
Our story has a speaking part.
When you see the dots . . .
 try guessing the word.
That is the time for YOU to be heard.*

Here comes a possum down the trail
With all her babies on her tail.
They hang on tight, and away they go,
Ten little possums, all in a row.

Look at those clouds full of wind and rain.
It looks like a howling hurricane!

Oh! Now it hits and shatters the air!
And babies are scattered everywhere!

“They’re lost!” Mama cries, all out of breath.
“If I don’t find them soon, they’ll starve to death!”
But it’s almost certain that Mama will fail
To get all those babies back on her tail.
TEN, after all, is a large amount,
And the problem is - Mama can’t count!

Isn't that sad? What shall we do?
Someone must count; so how about YOU?
When I say "number," count loud and clear,
And then we'll know that Mama can hear.

Look at her tail! Well, what do you know?
A little possum who didn't let go.
Please speak right up. Our search has begun.
Tell our Mama she's found number . . .

one 1

